Legislature stops clock for 2nd day

The Illinois General Assembly clock continued to record the late evening of June 30 as legislators resumed deliberations yesterday and again today.

The "stopped clock" procedure enabled senators and representatives to continue trying to bring out of one of the most hectic pre-adjournment periods ever.

Numerous bills, including appropriations, were amended extensively during the weekend and the fate of a number of proposals remained uncertain today. The heavy logjam seemed sure to doom many bills.

Some of the key actions were as follows:

APPROVED AND SENT TO GOV. WALKER:

A half-cent sales tax slash on all goods.

Mandatory death penalty for murder of public officials or candidates, on-duty police and firemen, prison guards and other correctional employees; murder of two or more persons; and murder by contract. Formation of a 17-member state board of education to set policies for elementary and secondary schools — the members appointed by the governor on a regional basis, with no more than nine from the same political party.

Creation of a board to supervise the administration of all voter registration and election laws in Illinois, the board composed of two Democrats and two Republicans chosen by the governor from names supplied by General Assembly leaders. If the four are deadlocked, the board clerk is to draw by lot the name of one member, who then is to refrain from another vote on the issue.

Regulation of abortions, with a ban on referral services and with penalties for those performing abortions (except physicians acting to save a life).

A $1½ billion Transportation Department appropriation, in-

Holiday activity at park

A gigantic fireworks exhibition will highlight the Fourth of July celebration continuing through Wednesday at Wilson Park in Granite City.

Carnival rides and concession stands, sponsored by local organizations, will operate today from 6 to 10 p.m., and a "Teen Dance" is scheduled from 7:30 until 10:30 tonight at Wilson Park rink pavilion.

The colorful pyrotechnic display which annually attracts hundreds of spectators from surrounding communities will start promptly at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

A series of 24 aerial bomb bursts, loudly audible throughout the area, will be exploded at precise intervals to announce the approach of the 9 o'clock starting time.

Fireworks, valued at $1,539, will be ignited in 17 sequences, all labeled with imaginative titles—Temple of Iris, Crystal Garden, Tower of Jewels, Dad of Demons, Sheela's Brooch, Musical Wheel, Whirling Wonders, Fool Wheel, double Fountain of Youth, American Flag, Niagara Falls, Statue of Liberty, Smile Button, Snoopy and the Red Baron, Dove of Peace, Cleopatra's Fan and a luminous "Good Nite Granite City Park District" display.

Midway rides will open at 1 p.m. Tuesday, continuing until 10 p.m., with a matinee ses-

230-93 defeat for Venice school tax

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A thumping defeat was dealt Saturday to a referendum proposal by Venice School District 3 that the district's maximum tax rate for education purposes be raised $1.20 per $100 assessed valuation.

The proposal was defeated by 230 "no" votes to 93 in favor.

Ballots were cast in two precinct polling places—the Venice public school at 740 Broadway and at the Eagle Park Improvement Association office, 100 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres.

Voters at the Venice school balloted 88 in favor and 201 against the proposition, with nine ballots spoiled. At Eagle Park, voters opposed the proposal with 33 "no" votes to five "yes" votes, with 17 spoiled ballots.

School officials said the surprisingly heavy vote against the tax rate increase came primarily from property owners and senior citizens. Polling lists of applications for ballots at two polling places indicated a lack of voting interest by parents whose children attend the public schools.

A decision as to whether another vote will be arranged will await a regular meeting of the Venice School Board on July 16, when Saturday's vote will be canvassed, school officials said.

Prior to the balloting School Board members said if the proposition was defeated in Saturday's referendum, another vote would be arranged within 60 days.

Had the rate increase been approved, the district's maximum rate for education purposes would have been raised from $2.66 to $3.86.

Strange named United Way Division leader

W. F. "Mick" Strange, photo editor of the Press-Record, will serve as chairman of the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign, it was announced today.

The public relations division will help inform the public of activities and needs of local United Way agencies.

Strange was born in Granite City and raised in Madison, where he graduated from high school prior to attending Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, majoring in sociology.

He currently serves on two boards would have been raised from its present $2.66 to $3.86, a rate sufficient to raise $1,061,000 on the basis of present property valuations. The district now receives about $685,000 in taxes on its present $2.05 educational rate.

Defeat of the rate increase leaves the district in serious financial trouble. The district has a deficit of $487,000, of which virtually all must be repaid out of this year's tax collections.

The district's immediate debts include $300,000 worth of anticipation warrants, $260,000 in working cash fund bonds and $187,000 worth of other expenses.

School officials have said they without an increase in revenue, the district faces the alternative of annexation to another district as one means of stabilizing its financial status.

Arrest suspect in bank holdup

A bank robber who stood in line at a teller's window and complained to a waiting customer about having to wait eluded police and escaped with $250 at 10:20 a.m. Friday at the First National Bank in Madison, 600 Madison Ave.

But an arrest was made Sunday, James Davis, 27, St. Louis, was booked by officers there as a fugitive from Illinois, suspected of bank robbery.

Madison police today signed a warrant charging robbery and the U. S. attorney is issuing a bank holdup charge.

Ball for Davis was set at $15,000 on the local charge and $10,000 on the federal warrant.

He was described as a former convict who has been a visitor in the Quad-Cities on a number of occasions.

St. Louis Patrolman George Anderson of the Central District stopped Davis at 11th Street and Delmar Blvd. in an auto thought to have been stolen. The 1964 auto appeared to be similar to one stolen Friday in East St. Louis, owned by Allen McBride of Highland.

Clothes found under the front seat of the car were similar to the clothing seen on the Madison bank robber, St. Louis police said.

In the robbery, the holdup man handed Frances Avigdis, an assistant cashier, a note asking for $1,500 but he left after being handed a stack of about 25 $10 bills.

About eight persons in the bank and its vicinity saw the robber, who police described as having dark skin, of slender build, in his late 20s.

He wore a white straw cap with a narrow bill, wire rimmed sunglasses and a dark blue jump suit.

The man entered the bank by the south door and stood in line at the last teller's window. He talked to other customers, including a woman.

TURNING OVER THE KEYS to the Granite City Post Office, Postmaster William "Ted" Overbeck, left, retired Friday as Herbert A. Backs, right, began his duties as acting postmaster. Overbeck headed the postal service here 16 years. Backs had 27 years of service, having started here as a clerk-carrier.

Overbeck ends 16-year career as GC postmaster

After 16 years as postmaster of Granite City, William "Ted" Overbeck turned over the keys to the post office Friday to the new acting postmaster, Herbert A. Backs, the former assistant postmaster.

Following an inventory of the post office, which is required by federal regulations, Overbeck congratulated his replacement, wished him luck and left for what he described as "a retirement of golf, bowling, travel, home repairs and maybe a little fishing."

Overbeck, 65, was appointed exactly 16 years prior to his retirement day as acting postmaster, his first postal job. "At that time we had about 80 employees. Now we have between 111 and 120," he said.

He was appointed postmaster in September 1959 by the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a fact of which he is very proud, he stated.

Asked about memorable points in his career, he commented, "The highlight had to be when we dedicated the new post office in 1963. Cong. Melvin Price and Sen. Paul H. Douglas were here for the dedication and several high postal authorities from Chicago came."

Less driving, heating and cooling suggested

Urging development of a "conservation ethic," President Richard M. Nixon on Friday asked Americans to decrease their personal consumption of energy by 5% in the next 12 months.

Calling it a "necessity," he suggested driving autos slower and using less air-conditioning and heating.

He proposed spending $10 billion during the next five years on energy research and development.

The President also asked for Cabinet-level Department of Energy and Natural Resources "responsible for balanced use and conservation of energy and natural resources."

He appointed Colorado Gov. John Love as a presidential assistant and chief policy officer and as White House adviser on energy matters. Love will resign and be succeeded by Lt. Gov. John Vanderhoof.

The new department would utilize the framework of the present Interior Department, created in 1949.

A new independent Energy Research and Development Administration would take over most of the Atomic Energy Commission's functions and some of the present interior research and development.

The Agriculture Department's Forest Service would go into the new department along with certain other units of the Agriculture, Commerce and Transportation departments and the Army Corps of Engineers.

AEC licensing, regulatory and related duties would remain in a five-member Nuclear Energy Commission; the bulk of the AEC would go into the proposed ERDA.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION: "During the night, a man was bothered by mosquitos. Without turning on the light, he picked up what he thought was the insecticide spray bomb. The next morning he discovered he had sprayed the walls and ceiling with red lacquer. Would an 'all risk' Homeowner Policy cover this? Is it a while a 'broad form' policy would not?"

A suit challenging the constitutionality of court ordered integration of the Madison public schools was filed Thursday in Madison County Circuit Court on behalf of the District 13 Board of Education.

The suit was filed by the board's attorney, William Kinder, after authorization to challenge the court ruling was given by the board last week.

Kinder filed the document instead of meeting the court's deadline of Friday for submitting a desegregation plan to the court.

The Board of Education met Friday night to award contracts for the purchase of three commercial ovens and a deep fat fryer.

Peerless Supply Co. of St. Louis was selected on the basis of low bid for all three purchases. Two other bids on each item were rejected.

The Peerless contracts included a $377 oven for Madison Junior High School, two ovens at $627 each for Madison High School and Louis Beer School and the fryer at $472 for the high school.

Vadalabene's bill called for appointment by the governor of six authority members from Madison County and six from St. Clair County.

Pumps at the pumping station operated by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, including those at Madison and Venice, were closed down Friday morning for the first time since early January, according to James Spanos, levee district engineer.

Pumping stations at Madison, Venice, East St. Louis and Cahokia have been pumping on a 24-hour-per-day schedule for the past six months because of high river stages and flood conditions, Spanos said.

Bill would renew fund for Dobrey drainage

A new appropriation of $150,000 to provide interim drainage improvements at Dobrey Slough in Nameoki Township was among bills receiving Senate consideration in a delayed legislative session at Springfield this morning.

The appropriation, proposed in an amendment which passed the Illinois House Friday, would permit a new call for bids to build a drainage line and two pumping stations that would drain Dobrey Slough through Granite City stormwater sewer lines.

The amendment was submitted by State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City) after the Dobrey Slough drainage project appeared headed for a year's delay because no construction bids were received for the project on June 26. The original appropriation for the project expired at the end of the state's fiscal year Saturday.

Calvo and State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) said the $150,000 appropriation for the drainage improvement was part of the appropriation measures that appear certain of passage and that they had little doubt the money would be provided.

Strike delays new high school, work on anti-pollution device

Nearly all construction jobs including Madison County, were halted this morning as striking members of Granite Engineers Local 520 of Mitchell set up picket lines.

Among the construction jobs halted is the building of Granite City High School/North, the Schmuck-Carp's shopping center, Route 203 improvements and Granite City Steel Co. rebuilding and improvement work.

The Operating Engineers members voted June 22 to strike when the present contract expired at 12:01 a.m. Sunday unless agreement could be reached between union negotiators and the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

The unofficial tally of the strike vote indicated 600 in favor and 20 against the strike. Negotiations June 27 failed to break the impasse and a federal mediator was named.

An SIBA spokesman said today that no meetings have been scheduled but the federal mediator is expected to call for a meeting in the near future.

Work commenced this morning on the GCHS/N project but pickets were placed at the drive entrances about 8:45 a.m. today and foremen at the scene indicated all unions would honor the picket lines and stop work at noon today.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds for the school district, said this morning the strike endangers the opening of the school, scheduled for early in September.

"We had planned to open the facility while work of finishing the building was continuing. Timing is crucial. We cannot stand to lose any time," Heubner said.

The Route 203 project also has an effect on the school, as entrance drives are to be built to the height of the new highway.

Route 203 also is the main route to the school from most of the local area.

Heubner said even if the strike is settled soon, the September opening of the school still is threatened by the expiration of contracts for the carpenters, laborers, cement masons, iron workers and most other construction trades July 31.

Board against Local 520 for what it terms irresponsible conduct by the school

Sought is an injunction to halt the strike, which affects the $2.5 million worth of projects in the 16-county area.

Madison hearing on investigator resumes

Testimony resumed Thursday afternoon in a Madison Board of Fire and Police Commissioners hearing on charges against Madison Police Investigator Paul Bargiel.

At least one more hearing session will be necessary and possibly more, attorneys indicated. Resumption of testimony is scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday.

Bargiel, who was taken off investigative duties and returned to uniform for four months, faces a five-day suspension without pay if the charges are substantiated. Chief of Police Frank Dutko has charged him with altering an unmarked squad car without permission and with using the car for a high-speed chase, allegedly against department regulations.

The unauthorized modification of the car in question concerns Bargiel's placing a poststruck rear-end in the car at no cost to the city. An official of Granite City Dodge, Inc., testified Thursday that the rear end he had installed cost about $175 more than the former rear end in the car and made the car.

He refused a contention by Sgt. William Papa, maintenance officer for the police department, that Papa had authorized all repairs on the car except the rear end.

He said he had never seen or had contact with Papa and all repairs on the car had been authorized only by Bargiel.

Papa testified all routine maintenance on Bargiel's car had been authorized by him, but that he did not know of the change of rear ends in the car. Dutko testified Papa was the maintenance officer but upon cross examination was unable to pinpoint dates and most of nothing department personnel as to the appointment.

while keeping his right hand inside a pocket.

The note was handwritten in ink and stated: "This is a stick up. Act the way I want you to. Count me out $1,000 in 10 and 20s and be quick about it. When handed bills, the robber turned around and left the building by the same door he had entered."

The only conversation between the man and the teller occurred when the robber said: "Do as you're told."

After leaving the bank, the man was seen running east and then north through a driveway in the 1000 block of Sixth Street to an alley. He continued to run in an easterly direction along the alley.

Adrian Gilchoe, bank executive vice president and cashier, had just drive into a parking space at the rear of the bank and was getting out of his car when he noticed a young running east in the alley beside the bank.

He said he could see only the top of the youth's head, part of his blue shirt and the white cap and bill.

"Just then James Foley (bank auditor) ran out of the bank and told me we had been held up. We ran after him but he had disappeared," Gilchoe related.

The investigation is being made by Madison police department, the detective branch of the Illinois State Police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and St. Louis and Venice authorities.

It was announced Saturday the Illinois Bankers' Association has offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the man just driven into a parking lot.

Mercer, St. Mary's divide Inter-City double header

The two local Inter-City League baseball teams split a double header in Wilson Park Sunday as Mercer blasted a 10-3 first-game victory and St. Mary's batters took the nightcap 5-4 in seven innings.

It was tied at 4-4 in the second game as St. Mary's came to bat in the last of the seventh. John Piechocki, who was safe on an error, Jody Greer went to first on a third-strike passed ball and Al Branigan walked.

Booster Manager Jim Greer then came in as a pinch hitter. Greer worked out to a three-and-two count with two outs when Mercer pitcher Bob Boone hit him with a pitched ball, forcing in a run and ending the game.

"Frank Papa pitched controlled ball during the second game," Manager Greer remarked. "When Papa pitched controlled ball you can only hit them on the ground."

In the opening game, Alex Reznack was the winning pitcher and Piechocki the loser. Top batters for Mercer were Dave Evans, four-for-four, including a double and three singles with two RBIs; Larry Corey, two-for-two, with three RBIs; Dave Sparks, two hits, three RBIs; and Dave Huddleston, two-for-four.

"We had a lot of singles; in fact the only extra base hit was Evans double," Wendell Cory, Mercer manager, commented.

Booster catcher Al Branigan belted a 300-foot home run with a man on in the fourth. The only other run for St. Mary's came in fifth when Jody Greer singled, driving home Jody Greer who was on first and was stealing second on the pitch.

In the only other action reported Sunday, Motor Motors of Collinsville edged Troy 1-0. League standings are: R-2 Division, Troy 7-5, Roxana 6-3, Motor 6-3, Mercer 4-4 and Highland 3-6; Blue 2-1.

Study mark-up level in chemical supplies

The Granite City Housing Authority tomorrow night will review procedures under which it may have been overcharged by the Imperial Sales Co., headed by Thomas O. Racz, 35, Ladue.

Federal guidelines call for competitive bidding on purchases exceeding $500. The local authority is believed to have power to also obtain bids when buying lesser amounts.

Experience with various chemicals used against germs, to recondition flooring and for other purposes has led to a practice of ordering specific products for particular uses, a GCAS spokesman said today.

It has been the belief that prices paid here have been similar to those available in other parts of the country. The precise "mark-up" between wholesale and retail prices normally is not disclosed to buyers and has not been made available to the GCAS by Imperial.

An investigation of charges against Racz and others by a Platt County grand jury led to a review of "extended" in voice data, a Housing Authority official noted today. In one purchase billed Aug. 8-1971, for a number of items, the grand total of $258 retail compared with $150 wholesale on a purchase totaling $410 Oct. 15, 1971, Imperial's cost was $140, the official related.

The GCAS spokesman voiced full confidence in local actions but said cost comparisons will be made to determine whether such billings as the $558 and $410 were similar to what would have resulted from buying from another supplier.

Based on this study, the possibility of calling for bidding on future maintenance supply purchases will be considered. Ways to achieve quality comparisons through bid specifications also will be studied.

More street lights at Venice are authorized

Venice residents can look forward to a better lighted community when a series of new street lights is installed and existing lights are replaced or adjusted to conform to a resolution adopted by the Venice City Council at its meeting last week.

First Ward Alderman Lloyd H. Patterson, chairman of the lighting committee, submitted the resolution which itemized specific locations where new street lights will be installed, adjustments made to present lights or others relocated to provide greater overall illumination.

A survey of the area was made by Alderman Patterson and his committee to determine the lighting needs of the community prior to the upgrading and improvement program being presented to the council.

The detailed specifications now will be referred to Illinois Power Co. engineers before the lighting work begins. Comptroller Carl Burnes explained.

The resolution calls for new lights to be installed or present lights upgraded at 24 locations and 18 existing lights to have adjustments made.

Area scheduled for improved lighting include — Bell Valley between Logan and Market; 1100 block of Logan (rear); west end of Allen St.; rear west of Logan St.; on College near rear of the 800 block of Mercedo.

State parole, health board appointments

Gov. Dan Walker last week nominated two members of the Parole and Pardon Board and one holdover to the Pollution Control Board, and named a new member to the state Health Facilities Authority.

They are: John P. Dohm, Oak Lawn, as a Democratic member of the Parole and Pardon Board; Anthony J. Doherty, Waukegan, as a Republican member of the Parole and Pardon Board; Jacob D. Dumelle, Oak Park, as a Democratic member of the Pollution Control Board; and Charles E. Hayes, Arlington Heights, as a Democratic member of the Health Facilities Authority.

The operations office is being the hardest hit, with 203 of their 1,120 jobs being eliminated. It administers the Motor Fuel Tax funds and handles design, construction and land acquisition.

The department of fiscal management is being reduced from 383 to 327 and the safety department from 194 to 171. Some of the smaller departments, such as planning, program management and environmental control are increasing slightly.

Other details about the employees being laid off are hard to come by. Persons who are being fired are more vocal, though.

Dozens of Republicans are filing lawsuits alleging they were fired for political reasons, but certainly not all of the dismissals are political.

Governor's ax falls to fulfill campaign pledge

Springfield — "The free ride is over," Gov. Dan Walker declared in his inaugural speech. The ride ended Saturday for thousands of state employees, but whether it was free is debatable.

Walker campaigned on a theme of waste in government and now with the beginning of the fiscal year yesterday he is obligated to work for legislation which will implement his campaign and budget message.

The ride in the Department of Transportation, for example, ends for 14 per cent of the personnel in the central office 31st Street. In the districts across the state employees are being reduced by 10 per cent, according to a Transportation spokesman.

Administration figures show that 9,142 people were employed in the department on Feb. 28 and the figure was to be 8,158 on June 30. Of that total, 222 of the 896 jobs at the Transportation Building are not being funded.

Parents urged to prepare notes for emergency care

Officials of St. Elizabeth Hospital today suggested that parents prepare written authorizations for relatives or close friends to approve hospital emergency care for their children in the event the children under age 16 are injured and the parents can not be reached.

A spokesman for the hospital said letters on notes signed by one or both parents or legal guardians authorizing others to sign hospital emergency forms will be accepted, in most cases.

The letters should list the names, home addresses, home telephone numbers and office telephone numbers, when possible, of persons who are designated to act in behalf of the parents in authorizing emergency room care.

"It is especially urgent that the parents do this now in light of the approaching Fourth of July holiday period in which the number of children injured traditionally increases due to the use of fireworks and matches," the spokesman said and added:

"Taking a few minutes to prepare the letter could save many children needless suffering when injured while waiting for authorization so emergency care can begin."

It was stressed the form should be left in one readily available place in the home and baby sitters, close friends and neighbors should be made aware of the location of the document. Children old enough to recall the location of the authorization form also should be informed, the spokesman concluded.

LAST BUSINESS DAY was conducted Friday at Lillian's Grill, 1923 State St., where Mrs. Lillian Randolph has operated her restaurant business for 21 years. At left is Andy Gitchoff, a long-time customer.

Lillian's Grill to close after 21 years

Mrs. Lillian Randolph who has been in the restaurant business 35 years and has operated Lillian's Grill at 1923 State St. for the past 21 years, closed her business on Friday.

She plans to retire.

Although the grill will not be open to the public, Mrs. Randolph will have until July 15 to sell the equipment before she must vacate the premises.

Mrs. Randolph and one employee, Mrs. Florence Tolon, operated the business on a daily basis, with the exception of Sunday.

She began working for the Royal Sandwich System when they were located at 20th and State streets at the age of 16, and in 1943 started restaurant businesses that were at various State Street addresses.

Mrs. Randolph and her husband, Lacy Randolph, reside at 2605 Adams St.

Community Resources Commission created

Creation of a Granite City Community Resources Commission to guide and promote economic and physical development of the community was announced today by Mayor Paul Schuler.

The 11-man committee of which Carl Mathias, service area manager of the Illinois Power Co., will serve as chairman, conducted preliminary discussions in a meeting at the city hall Thursday.

In addition to Mathias, the committee includes Nicholas Veeder, chairman of Granite City Steel Co.; Carl Rant, manager of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority; Weldon Burch, past president of Local 67 of the United Steelworkers; Henry Karandjoff, chairman, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman and chief executive of the First Granite City National Bank; Art Griffin, business representative of the Laborers' Union; Chester Baker, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce; Lance Callis, Granite City attorney; Avery Schermer, food market operator, and Schuler.

The mayor said the commission's membership represents a cross-section of business, labor, industry and civic interests necessary to provide leadership for development of community benefits of any nature.

Three primary objectives of the commission at this time, the mayor said, will be to attract industry to the city and area, revitalize the downtown Granite City area, and to expedite a hillside drainage program.

Schuler said the city will get up a $2,000 appropriation in

Book on state government may now be obtained

The 25th edition of the handbook that has been called "the best guide there is to Illinois state government" is now available to citizens, students and public officials from the League of Women Voters of Illinois, 67 East Madison St., Chicago, Illinois 60603, or from local Leagues.

The edition of the Illinois Voters Handbook is the first published since the adoption of the 1970 Constitution. Attention turns to the changes that have been made and those not yet implemented by state.

The handbook is dedicated to the 10,000 members of the League of Women Voters of Illinois and to 18 specific league members and more specifically to Mary Helen Robertson, president of the Illinois League 1967-1971, Alice Ihrig, legislative chairman of the state league at the time of the Constitutional Convention and the late Stephanie Kramer, 50th anniversary campaign chairman and creator of the Chicago Metro Area Development Committee who found financial support for the league operation.

Illustrations include specimen ballots, instructions for registering and marking ballots, maps of congressional and state legislative districts, government organization charts on all levels and an election calendar.

For the first time, readers are asked to take some responsibility for the preparation of the next edition. The last page of the book is entitled "Notes to the Editor" and asks for corrections, omissions and suggestions. The 230-page handbook is available for $2.25 a single copy. Quantity rates are available.

Breakfast Kiwanians plan future events

Ray Grisham and Jack Mulach, president and secretary of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club, were selected as delegates to the annual district Kiwanis convention Aug. 16-18 in Chicago, during a meeting Thursday.

Other plans discussed at the meeting held at Temple's Smorgasbord concerned the boat races on July 16 sponsored jointly by the Granite City Kiwanis Club and the Breakfast Club.

Grisham reminded the members all ads are to be in for the program book by tonight and all ticket sales are to be reported to Robert Harris, chairman, at each weekly meeting.

Darrell Weible of the Granite City Kiwanis Club, was a guest and requested a work detail for setting up stands and other equipment on July 14, and those who will assist on the day of the races.

Members are to send reservations for the Charter night dinner meeting on July 9 to Conrad Bauer.

Chairman Ray Grisham and Norman Kinder announced the Hole-In-One golf tournament will take place on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 4 and 5, at the Arlington Driving Range from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Herb Cameron will be in charge of the program for the next meeting.

Deadline July 12 on housing applications

The deadline for accepting temporary housing applications from Illinois families suffering flood damage is July 12, according to Robert S. Titz Jr., state coordinating officer for the disaster headquarters in Springfield.

Ritz said applicants who would normally be eligible for temporary housing and who apply after the July 12 deadline could be accepted only if they are able to prove that they were unable to apply before that date.

Harold Van Orum, regional emergency services officer with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, said HUD will continue to provide assistance to persons who demonstrate a need for temporary housing. He added, "It is the mission of HUD to provide assistance until such time as the families are able to relocate or return to permanent housing."

Illinois water surveyist forecasts Midwest drought

Is your local water supply ready for a 1974 drought?

"It may seem a strange time to talk about drought, but that's what we should be worrying about, not more rain," warns Dr. William C. Ackermann, chief of the Illinois State Water Survey.

"Our abundant rainfall past several years can lull us into forgetting that this is the Midwest where our water climate is highly variable, where we must expect extreme periods of too little as well as too much precipitation. Our general demands for water are still increasing rapidly, and we must guard against a false sense of security that we could meet those demands when our wet years are replaced by drought years."

History indicates, and scientists in the water field generally agree, that exact periods of excess and deficit rainfall are not predictable, Ackermann points out.

"However, we see an intriguing pattern of major droughts — those that are severe, widespread and prolonged over a year or several years."

Such major droughts occurred over the central United States, including Illinois, in roughly the years 1912-1915, 1920-23, and 1929-33. Peak years of severity differ from place to place.

"If repeated, this pattern would suggest a major drought in the mid-70s. Of interest, also, each of these major droughts was preceded by several years of excess rain," Ackermann notes.

In still another pattern, he adds, the droughts of the early 30s and early 50s both started in the southwest and became more intense as they moved northeastward. Records now show evidence of a drought starting in northern Mexico and southwest Texas in 1970 and of its being more intense in some of the southwestern states in 1972.

If this pattern continues, we should expect a drought in Illinois by 1975.

Water Survey records for Illinois show a variety of long and short dry periods, and indicate that severe droughts occur on an average of about once in 20 years. Droughts are generally more frequent and more severe in the southern half of the state.

The most recent major drought in 1952-55 was most severe in southern Illinois but extended northward into Hancock and McDonough Counties and north of Champaign County at times. At its worst, rainfall deficiencies in the drought region ranged from 10 to 15 inches in 1953 and from 5 to 10 inches during '54.

During the 1952-55 drought, 75 Illinois communities suffered hardships from water greatly restricted and health factors had to be monitored. Some towns had to haul water by train or truck; some had to find money to quickly drill new wells; while others had to lay temporary pipelines to any stream or lake that still had water. A few built new reservoirs, but these were not ready for use for many months.

"The reasons for these community shortages during a drought are pertinent today," according to Ackermann. "Of the 75 that experienced hardships, 38 had difficulty because of their water supply sources, whether reservoirs or wells, were not of sufficient capacity to meet demands. Some reservoirs, for example, were capable of storing less than the community's normal eight-month supply. Adequate design should have provided a year's supply."

Another 28 towns had trouble because of the unexpectedly large increases in demand brought on by the drought. People want and need to use more water during a drought than they normally use.

Also, nine communities had problems because of declining capacity of facilities — old wells or siting reservoirs. Also contributing to the shortages were population increases and increased domestic and industrial water requirements.

"Two things seem clear," Ackermann concluded. "First, there's no reason to be caught by surprise at the next drought. It will come to the Midwest, and likely within a few years."

"Second, this is a good time for citizens and local officials to examine the adequacy of their water supplies to meet the extra demands of a long, severe drought — in addition to growing population needs. If you need more reservoir storage or new well fields, plan for them now. After a drought starts it's too late."

MRS. DAVID LEE KELTNER, the former Miss Virginia Anne Koteles, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Koteles of Brecksville, Ohio. Her husband is a former Granite City resident.

Former resident wed in Brecksville, Ohio

Miss Virginia Anne Koteles and David Lee Keltner repeated their wedding vows Saturday 1 p.m. late afternoon ceremony at the Brecksville United Methodist Church in Brecksville, Ohio. The altar was banked with arrangements of yellow and white daisies and yellow gold carnations. Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 4:30 were the Rev. David Patton and Dr. Stephen Szabo.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Koteles, 2016 Avery Road, Brecksville. Mr. Keltner, who resides at 2322 Pearl Road, Middleburg Heights, Ohio, is a son of Mrs. Elmer Keltner of Tobhanna Village, Pa., formerly of Granite City, and the late Mr. Keltner.

For her wedding, the former Miss Koteles chose an ivory peau de soie gown with a molded bodice of lavishly re-embroidered Alencon lace etched with tiny pearls. The neckline was high and the long fitted sleeves were fashioned with very wide cuffs traced with pearls in a criss-cross design.

Applied lace motifs enhanced the front of the skirt, that was gathered at the back and cascading gently into a chapel train.

She wore a camelot hat of peau de soie traced with pearls to secure her veil, accented with the same lace and pearl trim. Her bouquet was an arrangement of Imperial lilies and ivory roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Margaret Seskes and the Madison to hire city youths as ward workers

Mayor Mike Sasyk told the meeting last week of Madison aldermen he is initiating a summer employment program for the city's teens and youth which will employ 10 workers, two in each ward, at $2 per hour for four hours per day. The youths selected will help clean the wards and perform other miscellaneous tasks.

Sasyk estimated the total cost for the project will be about $3,600.

The council voted to transfer $5,000 from revenue sharing into the playground and recreation department account to defray operating expenses. Among the department's expenses was a $1,155 bill from Levy Sign Co. for installing new lights at the Third Street softball diamond.

The council's meeting dates were changed to July 10, 17 and 24. Regular meetings scheduled for July 3 and 31 were cancelled.

Venice Township budgets revenue

Proposals for spending $20,933 in federal revenue sharing funds were approved by the Venice Township Auditors at a regular meeting last week.

A total of $20,933 was appropriated for recreation and health purposes. Recreation appropriations included $5,000 for a minibus, $1,500 for playground equipment, a baseball court and a baseball diamond in Eagle Park Acres, $7,000 for Midway to spend on recreation, $2,000 for a mini bike trail and resurfacing the tennis courts in West Middle, $2,000 for a North Venice program which takes underprivileged children on outings.

An additional $1,433 was appropriated for health purposes. It is to be used to purchase eyeglasses and hearing aids for senior citizens as pensions.

At a special meeting June 18, the auditors approved a budget appropriation of $3,024 from revenue sharing for the township's share of a proposed incinerator facility.

700 calls received from flood victims

The toll-free number established to assist persons in flood ravaged areas will be discontinued on July 6, according to Robert S. Ritz, state coordinating officer and deputy director of the Illinois Civil Defense Agency.

The federal coordinating officer for the Office of Emergency Preparedness, Robert Conner, said that the "Flood Hot Line" received more than 700 calls for assistance during the last two months. The calls were referred to the proper state, federal or local agency for solution.

He said that federal assistance became available when President Nixon named 49 Illinois counties a major disaster area.

Ritz urges anyone who has questions about applying for benefits in recovering from flood damage to call the toll-free number 1-800-323-8928 before July 6. The number is answered from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Candlelight tours of old Capitol to begin

Candlelight tours of Springfield's Old State Capitol will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Saturdays throughout the summer beginning July 7. The final tour will be held Sept. 1. Presentations in keeping with the period 1838-1876—when the historic building served as the Illinois statehouse—will be featured during each tour. They will include dramatizations of Abraham Lincoln's "House Divided" speech, period chamber music, dramatic portrayals of Lincoln, and slide presentations on the 1861-1868 reconstruction of the Old Capitol. Admission is free.

All presentations will be given at 7:30 p.m. and repeated at 8:30 in the Old Capitol's Hall of Representatives, except the musical program, which will be continuous from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. in the second floor rotunda.

The July 7 and Aug. 11 feature event is a dramatization of Abraham Lincoln's celebrated House Divided speech. In the speech of June 16, 1858, Lincoln said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." I believe this Government cannot endure, permanently, half slave and half free," thus setting the stage for the Lincoln-Douglas debates. The dramatization is produced and directed by Guy Romans, drama professor at Sangamon State University.

The Heritage String Quartet, under the direction of Harriet Williams, will play on the evenings of July 21 and Aug. 18. The quartet, all members of the Springfield Symphony Orchestra, will perform works by Mozart, Beethoven and Haydn.

Chicago actor Richard Blake will interpret Abraham Lincoln as storyteller, campaigner and president of July 28 and Aug. 25. Wellknown for his characterization of Lincoln, Blake will present "A Look At Lincoln" using the Civil War president's own words.

A slide presentation illustrating the $8 million reconstruction of Springfield's Old State Capitol will be given

Aug. 4 and Sept. 1 by the two men most responsible for the historic authenticity of the reconstruction. James T. Hickey, curator of the Illinois State Historical Library's collection, and Lowell E. Anderson, the library's curator of historic sites, acted as historical consultants during the reconstruction and will demonstrate how the building, once familiar to Lincoln, Douglas and Lysses Grant, was recreated.

"Abe Lincoln's Yarns and Stories" will be told by Basil Moore of Marshall (Clark County) the evening of July 14. Moore's presentation of Lincoln's humor and philosophy is well known throughout Central Illinois and Indiana.

The Old State Capitol is open daily from 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. except New Year's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. The summer hours remain the same, with the building closing at 5 on Saturdays and reopening at 7 for the candlelight tours.

The Old State Capitol is operated and maintained by the Illinois State Historical Library and Society, whose headquarters are located beneath the historic structure.

Deadline for truck plates is extended

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, on Thursday extended the deadline for displaying 1973-74 license plates on trucks and other second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal year basis until midnight Tuesday, July 31.

"One of the reasons for the extension," Howlett said, "is that heavy rains and flooding have delayed farm planting and have hampered construction crews and dump truck operators."

Howlett emphasized there will be no extra extensions. License plates may be purchased over-the-counter at two outlets in Springfield and three in Chicago, Monday through Friday.

In Springfield, outlets are located in the Centennial building, where the hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and at Ninth street and South Grand avenue, where the hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Amvets plan July 4 dutch treat barbecue

A "dutch treat" barbecue is planned July 4 for Amvets Post 51 members and their families, starting at noon Wednesday, according to Adam Petras, commander, who said the event was arranged at a meeting last week at the Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

The post also voted to sponsor a hospitality room at the Amvets national convention, planned Aug. 24-25 at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis.

Reporting on activities at the Illinois Amvets state convention at Champaign last week, Leo Clements, Post 51 first vice-commander, announced that Johnny Dollar of Chicago was elected state commander.

Others elected or appointed during the convention included Post 51 members, Charles Wilkins, named District 25 commander, and C. J. "Smookey" Freise, chosen to serve as District 25 public relations officer. Kenneth Shoemaker of Mount Vernon Post 4 was elected commander of Division 345, Clements said.

Local post members agreed to support all Amvets state policy to promote a bill in the Illinois General Assembly which provides that owners of vehicles regain the same plate number each year as a means of decreasing the number of auto thefts.

Welcomed as a new member was James Copen. Bob Hanlon won a prize during the meeting.

What is so rare in the construction field as a way to cut costs without cutting quality? In the new Cortez Apartment complex in Bloomington, Ill., the builder chose electric heat to achieve this very thing. Electric baseboard heaters in each apartment are installed quickly and easily. There's no ductwork, no furnace room. With building costs soaring, such savings on labor and materials are rare good news for the builder. And the clean, quiet comfort of modern electric heat means the last word in quality comfort.

Just ask the tenants. If you're planning any kind of building, look into the cost-reducing features of electric heat. Our Sales Representative has the answers and he's as close as your telephone.

Built by Mark IV builders, the unusual Cortez Apartment complex is planned for 60 one-bedroom units.

Wildlife aspect enhances Douglas County's Park

Editor's Note: This is one of a series on Illinois' state parks.

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

CHARLESTON, Ill. — For those who want to get away from it all when visiting a state park, Douglas County State Park should fill the bill. The 464-acre park is 20 miles from the nearest sizable community, Charleston.

Since the park was first a state conservation area, it still preserves many wildlife aspects not always present in state parks.

Focal point in the park is Douglas County Lake, a watershed impoundment of 59 acres, fed by a local stream and contained by an earthen dam. The lake has a maximum depth of 32 feet, with an average 12-foot depth, and is a little over six miles of shoreline.

First opened by white developers in the 1890s, the area was considered prime land for cattle farmers.

Today, it has four scenic tree-lined drives (on which traffic must keep moving), which are particularly attractive in spring because of the many redwoods and wild flowers nearby. The drives will also display to visitors a number of Illinois native trees, including the ash, hickory, oak, walnut, locust and sassafras. There are gray and fox squirrels, rabbits and raccoons, turtles, snakes and other reptiles and, for bird watchers, scarlet tanagers, cedar waxwings, orioles and rose-breasted grosbeaks. Wood ducks can sometimes be seen nesting in the trees.

The park offers picnicking (but no firewood unless the visitor brings his own); hiking on many fire trails which weave through the timber, fishing in the lake which is stocked with largemouth bass, black crappie, channel and brown catfish, bluegill and redear sunfish. For those who feel the many-fingered lake isn't enough challenge, a short walk leads to the Embarras River, where the angler can try river fishing instead.

There is a boat launch at each end of the lake, with gas motors prohibited. Electric motors, canoes and rowboats are permitted.

During hunting season, upland game hunting is allowed in the park, and when the weather permits, ice fishing and ice skating are allowed. Maps showing park facilities and their locations are available in the park, in brochures which also give brief histories of the park and the area.

Douglas County State Park is located in eastern Illinois between Rtes. 36 and 133 north-east of Charleston.

A 'Help Box' may aid you

By MARY LOU MANNING
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — A motorist witnesses a multicausal accident with apparent injuries but is miles from a telephone... an elderly driver is suddenly struck with severe chest pains in the middle of a lonely stretch of highway... a young mother winces at the spluttering of her car about midnight just as she crosses the Mississippi River.

These hypothetical incidents could spell real disaster under ordinary circumstances, but now help is on the way for the stranded Illinois motorist. Under a new emergency communication system, all a motorist need do is pull up to a designated aluminum box, open the door, press a button and help will be dispatched.

The new system is called the "Help Box," and is being installed along a 40-mile portion of Interstate Route 270 (from the Mississippi River to Route 143) and Interstate Routes 55-70 (from Ill. 111 to the I-270 exchange), which are in the East St. Louis-Maryville vicinity, according to Lawrence Gregg, plans and contracts engineer in the Department of Transportation.

Boxes will be installed in pairs every one-half mile on the shoulder of the designated areas. They will be appropriately marked with a seven-foot blue and white sign reading "Motorist Aid Call Box."

Inside the box are four buttons labeled Police, Ambulance, Auto Service and Cancel. Once a button — or buttons — is activated, the message is relayed to a receiver anchoring the box will break away minimizing the impact and protecting the box.

"The boxes are permanent and not experimental," stressed Gregg. They are now in use in portions of Maine, Massachusetts and Florida.

The project is funded by a $420,000 contract by the Illinois Department of Transportation with the Federal Highway Administration funding 90 percent of the installation cost. Distributors of the box are ADT.

Marijuana symptoms noted

Dear Mrs. Tobin: We read so much in the newspapers about young people taking marijuana. What are the symptoms a parent should look for in their offspring? — Concerned in Hills

Dear Concerned: Watch for a son or daughter who suddenly withdraws into himself. Uncontrollable crying or laughter may also occur. The whites of the eyes will redden and a persistent cough may develop. Extreme hunger or sleepiness are reported by some individuals. Let me add that most young people try the drug for kicks but continue with the habit if they feel neglected, unloved or unwanted. Look for these symptoms first. You may never have to worry about the rest.

Secretary of State's office is impressive

By PAULINE L. TELFORD
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — When Michael J. Howlett was given a tour of his new office in the Capitol Building by his predecessor, outgoing Secretary of State John Lewis, he could hardly believe his eyes.

It was enormous. And when Lewis asked him what he thought of the room, Howlett replied with his ready wit, "It would make a wonderful funeral parlor."

Anyone who has been around Michael Howlett or heard him as a speaker, is well aware of the Howlett humor. It is in large measure a part of the charm and likability of the man.

Mike says the only office that he has seen that was bigger than his was former Postmaster General James Farley's in Washington.

You entered by one door where you were greeted by the postmaster general, and by the time he had escorted you through the room, visiting with you all the while, you found yourself exiting through the door at the other end, in the way Mike describes what he terms a pleasant but brief visit for both parties!

Mike has a door that leads out into the hallway at the other end of his 31x53 foot room, too.

Also a kitchen and bathroom area. But his callers end up going back through the offices of his secretary, Miss Molly O'Day, and receptionist, Mrs. Jean Suddes.

The office, refurbished for the secretary of state's use under the late Paul Powell, and many fire trails which weave through the timber, fishing in the lake which is stocked with largemouth bass, black crappie, channel and brown catfish, bluegill and redear sunfish. For those who feel the many-fingered lake isn't enough challenge, a short walk leads to the Embarras River, where the angler can try river fishing instead.

The only piece of furniture that Michael J. Howlett (top photo) brought with him to his lavish secretary of state office is the red leather chair he used as a secretary of state. Howlett was elected Illinois' 33d secretary of state on the Democratic ticket last November. Gold and red decor (bottom photo) and the rich luster of black walnut woodwork make the Secretary of State's 31 x 53 foot office one of the handsomest in the state complex. Vinyl wall covering in a soft gold shade blends with the gold carpeting and the gold and red striped draperies. The elaborate molding for the 23 foot ceiling is in varied shades of beige highlighted by gold and green. Gold colored upholstered chairs and black and white fireplace mantel add to the luxurious look.

Hotline assists farmers with fuel crisis problem

By MARY LOU MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — You're a farmer. You need fuel to get your crops out but no fuel is available. Where do you turn? Well, 217-525-2444 is a good place to start. That's the number of the "hotline" inaugurated jointly by the Department of Agriculture and the Illinois Commerce Commission, and they're doing their best to get fuel to the farmer.

"We projected the fuel crisis was back at the first of the year," explained Robert "Pud" Williams, director of agriculture. "So we initiated the hotline to monitor all agriculture problems from all persons. Initially, the lack of fuel to dry grain was the biggest problem, but now the main concern is fuel to get the crops in the ground."

The hotline staff is comprised of two employees from the Department of Agriculture and two from the ICC. (It was decided that the ICC monitor the project because of its technical background.) They receive approximately 40 calls per day, depending upon the weather and time of the week.

When a call comes in the conversation may go something like this: "The farmer explains that his jobber's (distributor) sup-

Advice is costing $25 million

WASHINGTON — The federal government has advice coming out of its ears. By the latest count it had 1,439 advisory committees in existence as of Dec. 31, 1972. That's 24 more than last year.

And unlike the kind you get from your wife, this advice doesn't come free. The total cost for the committees in 1972 was $25,215,662.

The average cost was $15,508 but a few had no expenses at all and one — the Department of Justice National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals — ran up a bill of $17,500,000.

The government didn't always know this much about the advice it gets.

Not very long ago it wasn't even certain how many of the commissions, committees and other advisory groups were still active, how often they met, whether they were still needed or in some cases why they were started in the first place.

So in February, 1962, President John F. Kennedy issued an executive order establishing regulations for their use. This helped, but not enough.

Again in June, 1972, President Nixon issued an executive order rescinding earlier advisory committee regulations and establishing a centralized management system located in the Office of Management and Budget.

SEN. DONNEWALD He fights for rural Illinois

By RAY SERATTI
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — Sen. James H. Donnewald of Breese is hardly a household name as Illinois legislative politicians go.

He certainly is not as highly publicized as Senate President Sen. William C. Harris, R-Pontiac, or Senate Democratic leader Sen. Cecil A. Partee of Chicago, or House Speaker Rep. W. Robert Blair, a Park Forest Republican, or House Democratic floor leader Rep. Clyde Lee Choate of Anna.

But, as the assistant minority leader in the Senate, Donnewald is considered by his peers to be one of the most effective and influential Democratic lawmakers in the 238-member General Assembly.

While many of the legislative leaders are seeking publicity and exposure, Donnewald is always pushing the more or less unattractive farm or rural legislation, which gets to be very important outside the Chicago area.

He possesses neither the oratorical ability of Partee, who is Senate minority leader, nor Donnewald's leadership teammate in the Senate, the fire of House Minority Leader Choate; nor the drama and color of Speaker Blair. Nevertheless, he makes up with determination, hard work and legislative acumen what he may lack in flamboyance.

The 7-year-old Democrat is a successful lawyer and businessman in Breese, a small southwestern Illinois farm community only a few miles west of his native Carlyle. Donnewald in his earlier years had a touch of life in the population-heavy, northeast section of Illinois. His father was employed at the state prison in Joliet and the family lived in the Joliet area for several years.

Despite his quiet, low-key approach, Donnewald has rapidly risen from untested freshman House member in 1961 to become a leading figure in the tradition-bound Senate, an exclusive club where seniority and flair are the usual twin "musts" for survival and peer acceptance.

Donnewald is married and has three children and like most residents of his home area he is a rabid St. Louis baseball Cardinal fan. He is a hunting companion of the Cardinal manager Red Schoendienst, who also is a native of the area.

Donnewald infrequently gets up on the floor of the Senate to engage in debate. But he is effective on doing the background work on legislation and is helpful in getting information to lawmakers on pending legislation. He took an active role of compromise when a workable program was hammered out on personal property taxes.

What does the future hold for Donnewald? Statewide elected office? Congress? A judgeship?

"I have absolutely no aspirations for higher office," Donnewald comments. "My principal ambition remains the same as when I first entered the General Assembly 12 years ago: To represent my constituents, as well as the rest of Illinois, to the very best of my ability."

"The State Legislature is a representative institution which makes major decisions — usually by passing new laws, amending existing laws or defeating proposed laws — that vitally affect the everyday lives of all Illinois citizens."

"I consider it a privilege to be in a position to actively participate in this democratic arena, it enables me to fight for the interests of rural Illinois, which in the past have too often been neglected."

Require state troopers to file financial disclosures

State troopers will be required to file financial disclosure statements, Abner Mikva, chairman of the Board of Ethics, said Friday in announcing a decision by the board.

Former Congressman Mikva said representatives of the Fraternal Order of Police and the Illinois Police Association testified before the ethics board that they were not in positions where they would be subject to attempts to influence them.

The Board of Ethics has distributed disclosure forms to 7,000 state officials in response to Gov. Dan Walker's executive order requiring state employees to disclose their economic interests.

The disclosure requirement has been temporarily suspended pending a decision by Circuit Court Judge Waldo

Ashburn-Wolz nuptials held

Mrs. Jessie Edith Wolz and Lester Lloyd Ashburn were united in marriage June 27 at 6 o'clock in the afternoon in the Circuit Court, chambers on in Belleville Court Judge Francis E. Maxwell officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A pre-wedding breakfast for the bride and groom was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Love, who was served at Martini's Restaurant in Belleville. An open house reception for friends was held later that evening at Millie and Mickey's in Granite City.

The groom is employed at Sebold's Bakery and the former Mrs. Wolz is employed at Doris Restaurant.

They will reside at 2304 E. 21st St.

The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pasley of Granite City. Her husband is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Ashburn of Pearl, Ill.

Officer Friendly at park center

Officer Friendly of the Granite City Police Community Relations Department last week visited youngsters who are attending daily sessions in the park district's summer recreational program at Lincoln Place Community Center.

Patrolman Roy Koberna, who organized the Officer Friendly program locally, showed a film concerning a policeman's duties and answered questions posed by the children.

24 earn certificates in emergency trauma course

Twenty-four policemen, firemen, volunteer firemen, ambulance personnel and industry representatives received Emergency Medical Technician Ambulance certificates after completing a 12-week course, at a program held at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week.

The EMTA is a national registry for those who complete the course. Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler was the guest speaker and emphasized the importance of the program in relation to the community.

As I see it the EMTA has an important position to fill in the not too distant future a tremendous potential for these services, Mayor Schuler said. The shortage of doctors has been a problem for some time and the use of para-medical technicians is one way of relieving the work load of the medical doctors, thereby releasing them for more specialized tasks.

Summer heat poses risk of food spoiling

Summertime temperatures and summertime foods can add up to spoiled foods and illness if you aren't careful.

Temperatures ranging from 45 to 120 degrees F. are considered "danger-zone" temperatures that encourage rapid growth of the microorganisms that cause foods to spoil.

And many common summertime picnic and backyard supper foods—especially poultry, meat, fish, eggs, milk and dishes containing these items—are hazardous when held for any length of time at temperatures above 45 degrees F. and below serving temperature for hot foods.

The longer food is out of the refrigerator, the more apt it is to be dangerous. Food that is held for three to four hours at danger-zone temperatures can make one sick or even sicker.

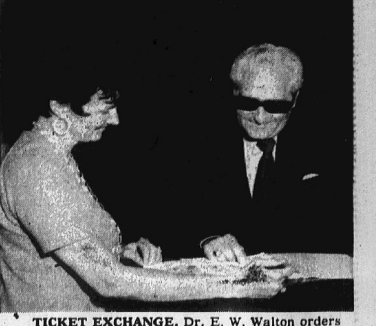

It's important to know that time is cumulative as far as organism growth is concerned. This means that you need to account for all of the time foods are without refrigeration, including the time spent in preparation as well as the time they're actually on the table. And time can add up quickly.

For example, when preparing potato salad, hard-boiled eggs and boiled potatoes are often left to cool at room temperature before they are placed in the refrigerator. If they're at room temperature for 45 minutes, that time counts.

Later, you remove the eggs and potatoes from the refrigerator, dice them and combine them into the potato salad. If it takes 45 minutes to get that job done, add that time to the time your food is held at danger-zone temperatures.

Another 45 minutes will often pass between the time you place the potato salad on your table and the time leftovers are returned to the refrigerator. Add another 45 minutes to the total.

Finally, add in the time the Mankind must end deceit, force to survive — Fuller

R. Buckminster Fuller said here Thursday that if mankind on the planet earth is to survive, he must stop practicing deceit and force and begin to cooperate with others of his kind.

Fuller told an audience of architects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville that they could facilitate this change by making college campuses better places to learn.

"If we are to survive," Fuller said, "it is because of education. We are going to have to start doing the exact opposite of what we're doing now, where everything is specialized. We give children knowledge about the parts, when what they want to learn about is the whole."

Fuller said he became interested in trying to understand the whole of the universe when he was 32 years old.

"I am a very average human being," Fuller told the architects. "I'm not talking about blind idealism. Any human being could do what I have been able to do, if they would set up the kind of controls for themselves that I did when I was 32."

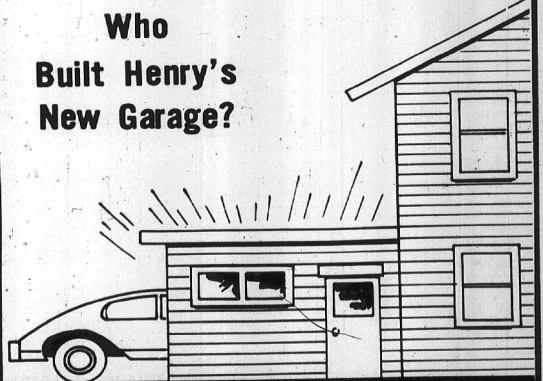

The mission of man, Fuller said, is to use the human mind to understand the universe and our relationship to it.

The universe operates on completely reliable laws, a design, Fuller said. "We've got to think in those terms in terms of the whole design, rather than being specialists and thinking only about parts of the whole. We will perish," Fuller said.

Fuller addressed a meeting of

GRANTMASTER TIRE GUARANTEE

1. Tread Life Guarantee Against Road Hazards
We guarantee all Grantmaster tires against failures from all normal road hazards for the life of the tread with the exception of: potholes, nail punctures, fire, theft, front-end misalignment, under-inflation, over-inflation and running flat.

2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects
We guarantee the Grantmaster tires against all defects of material and workmanship for the life of the tread.

Basis of Adjustment: Should your Grantmaster tire require adjustment under Section 1 or 2 of this guarantee, please return it to Grants and we will replace it by giving you a proportionate allowance for the unused tread, based on the current selling price, including Federal Excise Tax.

3. Guaranteed Against Tread Wear
The original tread is guaranteed not to wear out for the number of months designated. If tread wears out during this period, the tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charging the current regular selling price plus Federal Excise Tax less the following percentage allowance toward the purchase of a new tire.

Tire Guarantee	Allowance
18-27 Months	10%
28-37 Months	25%

This guarantee covers tires in passenger car service only. Passenger car tires used in commercial service reduce the guarantee period by 50%.
